— and the sole aim is the longer, better service of
United States Tires

THOUSANDS of acres of jungle-land in Sumatra have been transformed into flourishing rubber plantations in order to serve the best interests of buyers of United States Tires.

The tropic jungle has been hewn away, rubber trees planted by the millions, methods and machinery installed for the collection, cleaning and baling of rubber of the high quality required for United States Tires.

Today the United States Rubber

Company is the only rubber manufacturer controlling its own rubber supply in any large degree. The substantial and vital advantages in quality which ensue, are for the good of the users of United States Tires.

An army of specialists stands guard over every step of manufacture. United States Tires are good tires because their ultimate goodness is considered from first to last. The user must be pleased to the end of the final mile.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS DURING 1920

A Narrative Account of a Significant Period for American Commerce and Industry, Written by Its Leaders

PRIMARILY an index of THE NATION'S BUSINESS, yet its headings and sub-headings will give the reader of discernment a composite picture of the swiftly moving drama of the stirring year of 1920, a year in which business emerged into a new order of things. Ancient landmarks were swept aside, many of them never to be set up again. What of new relationships is for 1921 to tell.

Each month THE NATION'S BUSINESS, on the scene of action, clearly and faithfully reported in its pages these facts and their momentous problems. The record is authoritative. It has been written for the most part by the very men who were the moving powers behind the facts they chronicle.

For the convenience of our readers who keep a file of THE NATION'S BUSINESS, this index has been prepared.

Retrospect and Prospect

Out of a year of difficult readjustments to the tasks of peace has come the conviction that national aims must more surely serve all interests alike—that the measure of a country's greatness lies in its contribution to the welfare of its own people and the well being of the world—and that the important instrument of this contribution is, not governments, but business. This is the Irving's faith. In this spirit, its Officers and Directors greet you and wish you a Happy Christmas and a New Year rich in achievement.
